Member of the Competition Law practice group

Experience

Kotryna is a lawyer working on regulated markets matters within the Competition Law practice group. Kotryna's experience combining practice in unfair competition and trade secrets disputes with her academic work in these fields creates added value for clients in both compliance and dispute-related projects.

Kotryna guides clients through competition and regulated markets matters (tobacco, energy, anti-money laundering, beauty products).

Kotryna most often works on damages claims and institutional fines matters.

Drawing on her previous experience and knowing the market's nuances up close, Kotryna advises on luxury goods disputes and distribution matters.

Working languages: English, Lithuanian
